2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA") except that this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 66.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

If this opinion is, as provided above, considered to be a written opinion of the IPEA, the applicant is invited to submit to the IPEA a written reply together, where appropriate, with amendments, before the expiration of 3 months from the date of mailing of Form PCT/ISA/220 or before the expiration of 22 months from the priority date, whichever expires later.

For further options, see Form PCT/ISA/220.

Box No. I Basis of the opinion

1. With regard to the language, this opinion has been established on the basis of the international application in the language in which it was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.
☐ This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language _____, which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rules 12.3 and 23.1(b)).
2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
 - a. type of material
☐ a sequence listing
☐ table(s) related to the sequence listing
 - b. format of material
☐ in written format
☐ in computer readable form
 - c. time of filing/furnishing
☐ contained in the international application as filed.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority for the purposes of search.
3. ☐ In addition, in the case that more than one version or copy of a sequence listing and/or table relating thereto has been filed or furnished, the required statements that the information in the subsequent or additional copies is identical to that in the application as filed or does not go beyond the application as filed, as appropriate, were furnished.

Novelty (N)

Claim 1 defines a holographic storage method where the partial grating sampling function having a phase and amplitude combined with an m-level coding scheme. The sampling function amplitudes have m possible values.

The closest prior art to claim 1 was either D3 or D4. These citations disclose the sampling function but are not suggesting how to apply this function to holographic storage. Claim 1 is novel.

Claims 13,17, 18 lack novelty in light of D6. D6 clearly discloses holographic storage with a plurality of grating structures, and at least one data reading face. The series of m-level coded elements is implicit in D6 so that these claims lack novelty taking D6 alone. D7 also deprives these claims of novelty.

Inventive step (IS)

D2,D6 and D7 are representative of optical data carriers with a plurality of gratings known at the priority date of the present claims. When any two of these documents are combined (the combination being obvious) the listed claims lack an inventive step.

Industrial applicability (IA)

The methods and optical carrier have applications in data storage technology.
